FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

K2C Real Estate Solutions Sees Growth in Charlotte Population

Charlotte, NC (October 9, 2008) – K2C Real Estate Solutions has noticed an increase in potential homebuyers due to the fast population growth in Charlotte. Charlotte’s population increased 14 percent from 2000-2006 according to the Charlotte Chamber of Commerce.

Charlotte continues to experience growth with the number of newcomers moving into the area. Charlotte is one of the fastest growing regions in the country with its population doubling since 2002 according to the US Census. Charlotte also continues to maintain a steady market and job growth.

“We have many homebuyers who are relocating to Charlotte from all over the country,” says Jake Kent, President of K2C Real Estate Solutions. “They are moving here because Charlotte has so much to offer. The steady market, population growth and strong job outlook will help maintain the growth in Charlotte.”

K2C Real Estate Solutions represents several communities including Sheffingdell (www.sheffingdell.com) and Reverdy End (www.reverdyend.com) located in South Charlotte, Cobblestone Row (www.cobblestonerow.com) located near Ballantyne and the Cottages on Commonwealth (www.cottagesoncommonwealth.com) in the Uptown area.
